

The Linc;

April 15, 2022

Principal's Message:

It has been a great week at Lincoln. Although the weather has been a little crazy, we still managed to get outside everyday for recess. While visiting classrooms, I have noticed that classes are starting to do more small group work. I have witnessed several STEM projects including electrical circuits and egg transporters (see pictures). Plus, there have been numerous projects related to spring.

Next week, several of our students will be participating in the district enrichment play, "The Rainbow Fish". They have been working hard since early March, and I can't wait to see it.

Also, in preparation for next year, a team of staff members and parents have been interviewing Lincoln principal candidates. A few candidates have visited the building. I will let you know when a candidate has accepted and been approved for the position.

Finally, I would like to remind people to volunteer for some time during the Lincoln carnival. Although we have had several people volunteer in their child's classroom during carnival, there are other areas that need to be filled as well. Please consider covering some of the openings.

Have a great weekend!
